PFP Early Childhood Development Center Earns Three Stars Out of Four

Philadelphia - People for People's Early Childhood Development Center has been awarded its third Keystone star. Serving children in Philadelphia since 2005, the PFP ECDC has a licensed capacity to serve 135 low-income, minority students. In the Keystone Standards, Training, Assistance, Resources, Support (STARS) program, (Pennsylvania's initiative to promote excellence in early learning and school age environments,) PFP has recently met performance standards to improve from two to three STARS (out of four).

Keystone STARS, a program from the Office of Child Development and Early Learning, assists, advances, and acknowledges improvement in early learning centers throughout Pennsylvania. Through this third STAR, People for People's ECDC has been acknowledged for promoting learning, providing a high quality environment, and supporting positive child outcomes.
